

WORLD LNG FORUM – unprecedented LNG gathering online

With the world facing restrictions due to the COVID-19 situation there is a clear need for the global LNG community gathering. The networking experts at IGGS Group has come with a solution – on 9th of June, LNG community will be gathered by what is described as gigantic LNG online gathering – The World LNG Forum.

World LNG Forum Online is a global online networking forum dedicated to LNG industry. The online forum is designed to provide latest updates and often (considering the current situation) critical updates from the experts of this industry as well as to provide the much needed networking possibilities to find the necessary service providers, manufacturers, suppliers or consultants.
